

Private School Intent to Participate Form 21st CCLC for the 2026-27 School Year

Overview

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA), as reauthorized by the Every Student Succeeds Act of 2015 (ESSA), requires local education agencies (LEAs) to provide equitable services to private school students, teachers, and other educational personnel in some of its major grant programs. While private schools cannot receive direct funding from these federal grant programs, their students may be eligible to receive benefits, services, and materials. The amount and type of services available to private schools are based on equitable participation requirements and are discussed and determined as part of ongoing consultation with the LEA.

Title IV, Part B – 21st Century Community Learning Centers (21st CCLC)

Title IV, Part B provides opportunities for children and their families that include academic enrichment activities, particularly for students who attend low-performing schools, to help them meet challenging state academic standards in a well-rounded education. Activities may include youth development activities, service learning, nutrition, and health education, drug and violence prevention programs, counseling programs, arts, music, physical fitness and wellness programs, technology education programs, financial literacy programs, environmental literacy programs, mathematics, science, career and technical programs, internship or apprenticeship programs, and other ties to an in-demand industry sector or occupation for high school students that are designed to reinforce and complement the regular academic program of participating students.
